

Bakker Oilfield Supply Coevorden B.V.

Geothermal Energy

For many years Bakker Oilfield Supply has been providing services to the oil and gas industry. Since 2009, we also focus on well service activities in the geothermal industry. We have already been involved, in the activities on site, from the initial stages of the development of geothermal energy in the Netherlands. Planning, managing and completing projects, is what makes us strong. We have become an integral part of the geothermal industry and we have developed into a full provider.

B.O.S is able to apply its extensive knowledge and experience gained in the oil and gas industry to deliver well service and separation of by-products in the geothermal energy process. We can perform well clean-up, injection tests and production tests so there will be no unpleasant surprises.
